Excerpt from Roads and Pavements: June 20, 1917 On February 13-15, 1917, a meeting was held at the University of Texas, under the auspices of the Engineering Department, for all engineers interested in municipal work. There is at present no organization of civil engineers in Texas which devotes any considerable part of its time to city engineering problems. This meeting was held because it was thought that there was a real need for an organization in this line of work, and the response from engineers over the state was very gratifying. It is intended that a similar meeting shall be held at the University of Texas each year, and all city engineers, their assistants, and others interested in road construction, sanitary design and construction, and the various other branches of municipal work, are most cordially invited to attend. Engineers are also invited and urged to present papers or discussions on any line of municipal engineering upon which they have been engaged or in which they are particularly interested. Requests for papers on particular lines of work, if sent in early enough,...
